ENSURING SUSTAINABLE WATER SYSTEMS THROUGH INNOVATIVE, FULL COST WATER PRICING WEBINAR

DATE	LOCATION	TIME
Tuesday, November 08, 2011	Your Computer	1:00 - 2:30pm

TOPIC This webinar will provide water utility managers, financial directors, and local elected officials with an overview of how careful planning for conservation can recover costs, ensure adequate revenues to replace and maintain critical infrastructure, and enhance water conservation efforts by promoting environmentally sound decisions by customers. The webinar will provide perspectives from three national experts on full-cost water pricing, cost of service rate making, and low-cost or revenue-positive conservation strategies that can be implemented even in tough financial times.

PRESENTERS
Drema Gross, Austin Water Utility, drema.gross@ci.austin.tx.us
Margaret Schneemann, Chicago Metropolitan Agency for Planning/Illinois-Indiana Sea Grant Program, MSchneemann@cmap.illinois.gov
Jan Beecher, Institute of Public Utilities, Michigan State University, beecher@msu.edu
